

LEADING MAINTENANCE
FEAST KINGSBURYUsual Honors Shown to Judge
By Kamaeinas of the Valley Isle.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, Maui, August 14.—An evening not soon to be forgotten by the forty-five men present was the goodbye dinner given in honor of Judge Seiden B. Kingsbury of Maui Thursday night at the Maui Hotel. "Billy" Seiden B. Kingsbury, his best friend, and the men who have sat down to it, all friends of the guest of honor and men who represent the business and professional life on Maui, did their utmost to make the last night the much-beloved Maui judge was to be with them the greatest success of the year.

The dinner was conceived by some of Maui's leading business men, who left no stone unturned to bring together those who were either kamaeinas on Maui or leaders in some business or profession. All details of the table and service, the decorations of the dining room at the hotel and the carefully arranged program of speeches, made the evening the best affair of its kind Maui has ever known.

Unusual Honors.
Never before has a citizen of this island been so highly honored by his fellows of all classes as was Hon. Seiden B. Kingsbury last evening. Diners, many of them, have been given by fraternal, or by business houses, or by intimate friends, but never before, so old kamaeinas say, was there such a dinner and such a company of guests invited to honor a man who had been on the island only a little over five years. But such an honor was heaped upon the retiring judge of the second circuit of Hawaii, and the man who was the guest of honor was one whom the President had failed to reappoint to office.

Toasts and Speeches.
In the order in which they were called by Toastmaster H. B. Penhallow, the following gentlemen responded: Attorney E. E. Fawcett, Judge W. A. McKay, Attorney W. B. Crockett, C. C. Campbell, Rev. R. B. Dodge and Rev. J. Charles Villiers. The toastmaster followed by a few words of deep appreciation of Judge Kingsbury and then introduced the guest of honor. The speeches that had been made concerning him were so full of sincerity and warm praise of him as a man and of his splendid career as judge on Maui, that when he rose to speak it was very evident that Judge Kingsbury was deeply moved. He said he had heard all the fine things that had been said, but at times when his name was called or used during the speeches he found himself wondering of whom these words of praise were being uttered. "I do not deserve any of the kind things you have been saying, but if I do deserve any portion of them, I feel most happy," said the judge.

A Good Loser.
At last, when he said, "I am a good loser," his audience knew no bounds to their enthusiasm and when it was again quiet he said, "And I am going away happy, knowing I leave behind me many friends." Then applause was prolonged. Toastmaster Penhallow led the cheering for the judge, and then cheers for Mrs. Kingsbury. Then there burst forth "Aloha Oe," by the orchestra, which was followed by college yells, bringing in the judge's name, as is customary among college men in the States. "Who's Judge Kingsbury?" was one, and the answer came: "First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his Maui friends."

Auld Lang Syne.
At last Judge Kingsbury himself suggested that it might be time to be saying goodbye, and that he thanked all his friends for the send-off. This called for another burst of enthusiasm for the judge, and the clapping of hands around the big table, and singing "Auld Lang Syne." Then followed final cheers for Mrs. Kingsbury, and the delightful evening closed.

The Guests.
Those invited and able to be present to meet Judge Kingsbury for his farewell were the following business and professional men of Maui: F. E. Baldwin, H. B. Penhallow, J. J. Walsh, Rev. J. Charles Villiers, E. H. Hart, Judge W. A. McKay, Judge J. W. Kala, D. C. Lindsay, W. J. Cooper, E. R. Bayne, J. E. Kneave, L. M. Baldwin, J. N. K. Koola, C. C. Campbell, Rev. L. B. Kamehau, H. Gooding Field, C. R. Lindsay, L. von Tempky, Dr. F. E. Sawyer, W. H. Field, W. L. Baldwin, W. H. Rice, Wm. Walsh, C. D. Lukin, W. S. Chillingworth, Maj. W. E. Bal, Rev. R. B. Dodge, Hugh Howell, V. A. Velleson, R. B. Bond, W. L. West, C. A. McDonald, K. Zelevitz, W. Sealy, A. W. Collins, Capt. E. H. Parker, Attorney W. F. Crockett, E. B. Carley, H. D. Sloggett, R. A. Wadsworth.

The political campaign is now on in earnest. The soap box was pulled out yesterday at the corner of King and Bethel and the orators went at it.

TEETHING CHILDREN.
Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Even the most severe and dangerous cases are quickly cured by it. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

RALLYING TO THE
OF THEIR ALIMcCandless Found Race Feeling on Kahala Strong—Makes No Predictions.

Hon. L. L. McCandless returned from his electioneering campaign on Hawaii yesterday, after having canvassed Hilo and conducted many meetings in the Hilo, Puna, Kilauea, and Kohala districts of the Big Island. Replying to an enquiry as to what the political forecast appears to be, Mr. McCandless stated that in his opinion the Hawaiian vote will be almost solid for Kahala. "I did not go into Hamakua," he said, "and I do not know what the plantation managers think of the situation there. Everywhere else on the island the voters are rallying to the support of their Ali. Kahala has appealed to the sympathies of his people and is drawing a support that he never would have received had not Rice entered the field."

Accepts His Candidacy.
"The Hawaiian voters accept my candidacy as a matter of course, and I am going to get the backing of a great many men who have always affiliated with the Democratic party. There is no 'anti-hoole' feeling directed against me. If there were only one Republican candidate for the nomination I would receive many of their votes, because the logic of the situation appeals to them, that with a Democratic President I can do more for Hawaii than one of the opposition could do."

Kaukaeouli Dedication.
Mr. McCandless said that the Hawaiian people are taking a tremendous interest in the dedication of the Kaukaeouli memorial tablet at Kauhau.

To Maui Tuesday.
The candidate intends to go to Maui Tuesday and said that when he has finished his two weeks' tour of that island he will know where every voter in the Territory stands, and just what the political outcome is going to be.

Remembered No Promise.
Mr. McCandless said that he was somewhat surprised to learn that Palmer Woods had entered the race, as Woods had told him a few weeks ago that he would not under any circumstances become a candidate for election as Delegate to Congress.

Crop Outlook Good.
He said that the crop outlook on the Big Island is very good and that everyone is anticipating a prosperous season in 1915.

BOY BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE
NEAR GAS WORK

The six-year-old adopted son of George Kanaoa was burned to death last night in a fire which about eleven o'clock destroyed a one-story frame dwelling in which the boy lived with his foster parents in Iwilei. George Kanaoa, himself, was badly burned, and was sent to the Queen's Hospital in a serious condition, and unable to give any account of what had happened. His wife was uninjured. She stated that she and her husband were awakened by the room being in flames and made their escape as best they could. In the excitement, and in ear for her husband, she did not remember the little boy who had been sleeping in an adjoining room, and the firemen knew nothing about anyone being left in the house until they had the blaze under control and burst in the door of the boy's room, finding him dead in bed.

The fire department was called out at five minutes past eleven o'clock by an alarm turned in at box forty-eight near the scene of the fire. The building and its contents were totally destroyed, but the fire was got under control before the neighboring houses were seriously endangered. The building was the second one makai from the gas works, which for a time were in danger.

HILO, Hawaii, August 15.—(Special to The Advertiser by Mutual Wireless.)—Senator Palmer P. Woods, Democratic candidate for Delegate to Congress, returned here this afternoon from a very successful campaign tour of the Hamakua and North Hilo districts of this island. Speaking at Waipio, Kukuhihewa, Kawaia, Kapulena, Henokua, Panuhou, Kalapa, Paupulu and Kukaia in Hamakua, Woods was well received and promised good support generally by the Democrats. At Okala, Waipunaia, Laupahoehoe and Honohina in North Hilo, he was also well received and support at the primary election was assured. Woods also spoke throughout the South Hilo district, from Hakaia to Hilo, with like results.

Tonight, at Mocheau Park in this city, there will be a big mass meeting at which Woods will be the principal speaker. From street information it is believed that the Democratic candidate will be given a good reception. He will leave tomorrow for West Hawaii, by way of the Volcano House and Pahala.

Delegate Kuhio, accompanied by Rev. Stephen L. Dasha, his principal supporter on this island, is now campaigning in West Hawaii. Reports from there state that but little interest in the primary election, and that attendance at political meetings is slim at best.

HILLO PLANS TO GIVE COUNTY
FAIRBig Island Boosters Plan to Hold
Thanksgiving Day Celebration
at Crescent City at Which Baby
Show Is to Be Made a Feature.

Hilo is to have a genuine old-fashioned County Fair next Thanksgiving day. A committee consisting of well known boosters including Dr. H. B. Elliott, David Forbes, F. A. Clowes, Ernest G. Allen, D. S. Bowman and E. N. Holmes have taken the matter in hand and a special exhibit will be forthcoming.

The Hawaii county fair will be conducted under the joint auspices of the Hilo Farmers' Association, the Poultry Association, the Hilo Dairyman, the Hilo Cane Farmers' Association and the East Hawaii Plantation Managers.

Baby Show to Be Feature.

Although the committee has not placed the item first on the program undoubtedly the premier attraction among the agricultural exhibits will be the baby show. The committee members are all modest, bashful and retiring and in the preliminary program this event is placed last. A committee of ladies, headed by Governor Pinkham, it is reported, will award the prizes in the baby show. Good looks and parentage will be ignored. The prize will go to the bit of humanity that shows the best points, and measures and weighs nearest the ideal scale of bodily perfection.

The more strictly agricultural exhibits will include all classes of poultry, ducks, chickens and turkeys, garden vegetables, pineapples, coffee, cane, miscellaneous farm crops, flowers, ferns and potted plants, live stock including island bred horses and mules, beef and dairy cattle and porkers.

Jams, Jellies and Pickles.
There will also be exhibits of jams, jellies, pickles and preserves. The implement dealers will have a chance to show their wares. Special prizes are to be offered in all departments.

Small Farmers Not Barred.
While the Hawaii County Fair is to be mainly devoted to the interests of Big Island exhibitors, small farmers from the rest of Hawaii will not be barred from entering their produce.

There will be special excursions to Hilo Thanksgiving week for the accommodation of the Maui and Oahu visitors. Doctor Elliott and his committee plan to make the event a red-letter day in the history of small farming in Hawaii.

WAR BREAKS OUT IN A FRESH SPOT

While the European Powers are now engaged in war the greatest in the world's history, according to the military and naval strategists, the atmosphere here in Hawaii is not altogether calm and peaceful. Recently a declaration of political war was made by and between the Democratic leaders. Col. C. J. McCarthy is making the attack, and Manley Hopkins is defending his position, encouraged by the McCandlesses.

It happened that some time ago McCarthy called upon Hopkins and asked him whether he intended to run for the position of county treasurer. McCarthy wanted to know who his Democratic successor might be, and he was ready to back Hopkins. But Hopkins, after talking over the proposition with the colonel, said that he would not run at all. This ended the interview. McCarthy thereupon told his deputy, M. D. Drummond, to announce his candidacy for treasurer on the Democratic ticket. This was done accordingly. And no sooner had Drummond made the announcement than Hopkins, at the request of his friends, entered the field again and announced his candidacy for the same job. This started the trouble, and McCarthy immediately set the machinery in motion. First he asked Hopkins to withdraw; then he set out on the warpath. The scrap is a merry one.

George A. Davis yesterday received the endorsement of the Lahui party for the position of county treasurer. Davis, according to one of the Lahuites, was informed of the action late in the afternoon. Albert Harris, campaign manager of the Lahui party, said yesterday that Davis was selected because of his ability. He admitted that there was not a candidate among the Lahuites qualified to hold such an important office, and it was after a long and careful discussion that Davis was endorsed.

BODGE MENTIONED FOR CIVIL SERVICE BERTH

The name of Edward E. Bodge will probably be submitted by the mayor to the board of supervisors at the noon meeting today, for appointment as a member of the civil service commission. This appointment will be made to fill the vacancy left through the resignation of W. S. Edings, recently appointed judge of the Maui circuit.

When interviewed last night, Mr. Bodge stated that he had not been offered the appointment to the commission, and was not aware that his name had been proposed. He stated that if he should be offered the appointment that the matter would be the subject of serious consideration on his part.

Mr. Bodge is manager of the automobile department of the Honolulu Young Company, and is a well known business man of Honolulu.

European War Sends the Price of Rice UpwardGROWERS IN HAWAII WILL PROFIT AS RESULT OF ADVANCE IN JAPAN'S STAPLE ARTICLE OF FOOD.

The Hawaiian rice growers are to be directly benefited by the European war. Rice has jumped from $3.70 per bag to $4.75 and $5 since July 31. Those who are best acquainted with the local situation believe that there will be a further rise in prices, especially if Japan is drawn into the war. The importation of rice from Japan amounts to an average of about 350,000 bags per annum, while the locally grown product averages perhaps two-thirds of that amount.

While a certain percentage of the Hawaiian grown rice is consumed locally, the larger share of the crop has been sent to the Pacific Coast, where it finds a better market and commands better prices than at home.

The plantation laborers prefer imported Japanese rice, because of its superior flavor and better cooking qualities. If Japan becomes embroiled in the European war, the Japanese will stop exporting rice and will retain it for feeding their own soldiers. This will compel a substitution of home-grown Hawaiian rice for the imported article, until Japan-seed rice, grown in Louisiana and Texas, again enters this market.

It has been pointed out by those who have compared the food value of rice and bread that flour is cheaper as well as more nutritious than rice, so that one result of the rise in war time prices asked for rice may be forcing a change in the dietary of Hawaii's plantation laborers. In the meantime, rice, both home-grown and imported, is in heavy demand.

COAST MAN WILL
REPLACE M'CARNM. A. Thomas of San Francisco
Named to Succeed Hawaii's
Federal Attorney.

M. A. Thomas, assistant United States district attorney at San Francisco, has been appointed by Attorney General McKelvey to relieve District Attorney Jeff M'Carn here during the next sixty days, according to an Associated Press dispatch by wires received yesterday afternoon. The dispatch was worded as follows:

"M. A. Thomas, first United States attorney here, appointed to replace M'Carn next sixty days. Salts tomorrow."

That M'Carn, who is now in Washington under investigation as to his official conduct here, will remain away from Honolulu at least sixty days, was the opinion expressed by some people yesterday who are conversant with the situation.

"I know nothing at all about Mr. M'Carn's movements," stated Assistant District Attorney J. W. Thompson yesterday afternoon to The Advertiser. "The message you refer to is news to me and I cannot say what it means, for I don't know."

On Friday of last week Judge Alexander Lindsay, Jr., received the following cable message from Attorney General McKelvey:

"Can you accept designation special assistant to take charge of office of district attorney until conclusion of case against M'Carn? Expected conclusion speedily."

Judge Lindsay replied that he would act provided he was paid a sum which he named. He called attention to his own private business, which he would have to neglect to a large extent for the time being, and the subject was apparently dropped.

The belief now in Honolulu is that M'Carn will arrive here soon, shortly after Thomas reaches here, and that the federal court case, at least, against M'Carn will be pressed to its determination, after which the department of justice will take further action in regard to its district attorney here. Convicted or acquitted of the serious charge against him, there are few people in Honolulu who believe that Mr. M'Carn will be retained in office very long.

This week, commencing tonight, the Republican candidates for legislative and municipal honors will be busy addressing the voters of the different precincts. Lorrin Andrews, chairman of the territorial central committee, who has arranged for these meetings, expects to see all the candidates present.

Tonight there will be a mass meeting at Emma Square, beginning at half-past seven o'clock. Andrews will preside, and the Portuguese club will furnish the music. On Wednesday and Thursday it is expected that the voters of the first of the fourth, Kaimuki, will hold a meeting, at a place to be decided later.

On Friday night another big meeting will be held at the corner of Queen and Keawe streets, at Kakaako. This will be the last meeting of the central committee, according to the present arrangement.

FORBES IS NOW
AT THE HELMDemocratic Simplicity Marks
Change in Authority in Public Works Department.

Charles R. Forbes became superintendent of public works yesterday morning at half-past seven, when he stepped into the office in the basement of the Capitol Building and his predecessor turned the department over to him. There was no ceremony to speak of at the transfer of authority. Mr. Forbes shook hands with Mr. Caldwell, and the two wished each other success in their new fields of endeavor.

When seen yesterday by The Advertiser, Mr. Forbes was still at his desk, although it was close to five o'clock in the afternoon.

"I am just trying to locate myself," said the new superintendent, "and I guess it will require time to make me feel at home here. Drop in any time you want; you will always find the latch string on the outside of the door."

Regarding possible change in the personnel of the office force of the department, Mr. Forbes stated yesterday that he could not say yet what would be done. He had to get a better insight into the working of the force before he could decide whether any changes should be made.

Following his appointment recently, Mr. Forbes spent two days on Hawaii, where he made observation of a number of public undertakings now under way. He may, however, make an early tour of Hawaii, and will follow this up with trips to Maui and Kauai as occasion may require.

Mrs. Dorothea Annale Kufferath, for the past four and a half years a resident of Honolulu, died yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the King's Daughters' Home in this city, old age being given as the cause of death.

The funeral services will take place at two o'clock this afternoon at the undertaking of Mrs. E. H. Williams, Fort street, the Reverend Ed. Fagel, pastor officiating. Interment will take place at the Nuuanu cemetery.

Mrs. Kufferath was born at Heerswerthe, near Schoonhoven, Lippe Detmold, Germany, on January 28, 1831, and was at the time of her death a few days more than eighty-three years and a half of age. Her father was a teacher at the Heerswerthe school; her mother died while Mrs. Kufferath was an infant. She was married to Herr Kufferath, who was a music teacher at Duisburg-on-the-Rhine. They had one child, Carl T. J. Kufferath, a resident of Honolulu and a timekeeper with the Oahu Railway & Land Company.

During her residence in Honolulu, four and a half years, Mrs. Kufferath attended the German Lutheran Church, Beretania street, of which she was as devoted a member as she was a thorough Christian. The deceased was a patient uncomplaining sufferer and much beloved by all who came within the radius of her amiable personality. She leaves a son and eleven grandchildren to mourn her loss.

TRUSTING CANDIDATES
MAKE WILLIE COLLECTOR

At all the political meetings thus far held at different precincts, it was necessary for some one to collect $2.00 from each candidate to be added to the campaign fund. And in order to carry out this more successfully, W. H. Crawford, candidate for legislative honor, at the instance of his colleagues, acts as a collector, his experience in that line being very extensive. On Saturday night at Aala park Crawford had collected about $60.00, after paying the running expenses of the meeting has on hand $17.85 to show for it.

HAWAIIAN BAND MAY ACCOMPANY BOOSTER

The joint committee of delegates from the Commercial Club, Chamber of Commerce, Supervisors and the A. Club appointed to prepare a program and select speakers for the civic convention at Wailuku met yesterday and appointed a finance committee.

They also voted to appoint a program committee of four, one from each civic organization and the Hawaii motion picture committee who will report to the joint committee August 28. The joint committee decided that the delegation going to Wailuku should be split up into separate organizations. Maxine Fern said that he will see the Hawaiian band along provided the Shriners return it in satisfactory condition.

GOVERNOR SEEKS DAY OF REST ON TANTALU

For one day at least the seat of territorial government was on Tantalua where Governor Pinkham spent the day yesterday. The Governor was not in his accustomed place of official residence yesterday, he sending word to George R. Clark, his private secretary, that he was taking a day off. He expects to be on hand today.

It was learned yesterday that Governor Pinkham's health at present is not of the best; that, of late, at least he has run down physically. The Governor has been putting in long hours since he took office and, the several trips he has made to Hawaii, Maui and Kauai having been strenuous ones, his friends believe that the Governor will have to lay up and cut down his office hours considerably for the future. The preparation of his first annual report, the secretary of the interior has aided in taxing the Governor's physical powers to almost the breaking point.
